Peninsula AGC Builds Habitat for Humanity House

In a continuing effort to give back to the community, AGC members recently delivered on a commitment to build a 1200 square foot Habitat for Humanity residence in ten days. The Peninsula AGC organized and conducted the entire event, which provided a brand new home for a worthy Newport News family.

The dedication ceremony for the home, to be occupied by Crystal Faulkner, 35, and her 14 year-old daughter, Quran, was held on Friday, June 13. Faulkner, a single mother, has worked as a Newport News security guard for eleven years.

A very special thank you goes to Sean Cox and Mike DuBose, both W. M. Jordan Company, Inc. for their tireless efforts to coordinate this project.

Peninsula AGC would also like to extend thanks to all participants in this important project.

Valley District Career Camp Career Pathways in Architecture and Construction

On Monday, June 9, the Valley District hosted their version of a "Hard Hat Camp" called Career Pathways in Architecture and Construction. The focus for this one-day event was on Counselors, CTE teachers and other interested educators of middle and high school students. It was designed to give them a more in depth understanding of architecture and construction in order for them to be able to assist students in pursuing careers in construction. Participating AGC member companies were Lantz Construction Company, Nielsen Builders, Riddleberger Brothers, Inc, and Trumbo Electric.
